All About Lemurian Seed Crystals

The Gallery has an amazing collection of Lemurian Seed Crystals. We carry many varieties of this special kind of clear quartz. Together they make up a fifth our inventory! But what are Lemurians, and why do we love them so much?

What makes a Crystal a Lemurian Seed Crystal?

Lemurian Seed Crystals are a form of quartz recognized by parallel grooves that run along alternating sides. This is known as the “muzo” growth habit, named after the alpine town of Muzo in Colombia, where the growth habit was first described. Very supportive, positive, and life affirming, Lemurians enhance and encourage inner development and connectedness. When you connect with a Lemurian Seed Crystal and the energy it contains, you are also connecting to a grid of associated energies from the Earth, the stars, and beyond.

Metaphysical Legend states that there was once an advanced ancient civilization called Lemuria, similar to Atlantis but more spiritually developed and peaceful. As their time on Earth was coming to an end, the Lemurians encoded certain crystals with their ancient wisdom and then planted or “seeded” them deep into the Earth, to be discovered centuries later when the world was finally ready to unify and heal. This revelation came to Katrina Raphaell, a famous author and crystal intuitive, during a meditation with what are now known as Lemurian Seed Crystals.

Where are they found?

Lemurians can be found in several places around the world, the most notable of which are Muzo, Colombia and Serra do Cabral, Brazil. The majority of our Lemurian Crystals come to us from Brazil, but we also carry Lemurians from Colombia. It is worth noting that the crystals that Katrina Raphaell referred to (When discussing her first experience with Lemurians) originated from Brazil. The crystals she meditated with are now termed “Classic Pink Lemurians.”

Types of Lemurians

There are several types of Lemurians - Clear, Classic Pink, Dream, Angel, Citrine Lemurians, Smokey Lemurians, Golden Lemurians, Muzo, Amphibole - all with slightly different appearances and properties. On the next page we've included some examples so you can learn more! All of the crystals pictured are naturally occurring and unaltered.

1. Clear Lemurians bring Guidance and clarity to one's spiritual path.
2. Classic Pink Lemurians activate the heart chakra & awareness of universal love.
3. Lemurian Dreams Typically contain phantoms ranging in color from creamy white to pale green, can integrate spiritual dreams and awareness into the realities of earthly life, and are excellent for all types of inner healing.

4. Angel Lemurians have a white “frosting” on the outside. They have a soft, peaceful, and angelic energy.
5. Rutile Lemurians contain rutile, a titanium based inclusion that appears as tiny metallic lines within the crystal. They are very rare, and contain concentrated and highly refined Lemurian power.

We hope you enjoyed learning about Lemurian Seed Crystals! We have many Lemurians in our gallery and we love talking about them. Feel free to reach out to us regarding our vast collection, either digitally or in person!

We're Going Crystal Shopping!

Luz Elena will be traveling to the Denver Gem & Mineral Show in early September and sourcing a whole bunch of awesome new material for us! She's looking forward to reconnecting with all of our longtime friends and suppliers. Let us know if there's a particular crystal or mineral you'd like us to carry, or if you have a special request for an individual piece, and we'll add it to our shopping list!
